
Flash Drive Left in Swedish Library Holds Sensitiv

Posted by David - 2008/01/29 16:21

A flash drive found in a library computer center in Sweden contains classified NATO information. The individual who found the device gave it to a newspaper, which in turn gave it back to the Swedish military. The portable storage device contains information about security threats in Afghanistan as well as information about other countries. A Swedish military employee had notified superiors that the device had been lost; that person could face up to six months in prison.

<http://newsvote.bbc.co.uk/mpapps/pagetools/print/news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/europe/7172440.stm>

http://www.theregister.co.uk/2008/01/04/another_stick_with_military_secrets_found/print.html
